Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Wednesday 24 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright with occasional showers, gales in the north later.

Today:
A bright day with some good spells of sunshine, especially in the east. A scattering of showers, these wintry on hills. Strong to gale northwesterly winds in the north later. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Gales continuing in the north but easing later. Showers turning wintry on high ground during the evening but quite a few clear spells developing in the east. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Thursday:
Showers continuing but becoming confined to the far north later, some bright and dry weather in the south and east but still windy and feeling cold. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Severe northerly gales likely on Friday and Saturday and frequent outbreaks of rain, which turns increasing wintry later. Snow showers likely to low levels on Saturday. Brighter and drier Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.